Property Description

Villas Venado is an exceptional beachside condominium development with a dream-come-true location. This cozy gated community, which includes just eight condos, is nestled just 400 yards (375m) from a pristine, secluded and breathtaking beach on Costa Rica's Pacific coast. Few Costa Rica condos for sale feature such high-quality construction and spacious floor plans at this price point. (See detailed price information below.) Even less are offered with seller financing - and the owners here are willing to work with as little as a 30% down payment and the balance paid over five years. Built using ultra-solid concrete construction and finished with high-end hardwood cabinetry, these 2BR Beach Condos will stand the test of time. The open kitchen/living room and expansive outdoor terrace make them comfortable residences where one could live permanently. Exquisitely-manicured gardens fill in the common areas and surround the community's large pool.
