Property Description

There are few Tamarindo luxury homes designed so perfectly to maximize unobstructed ocean views. This six bedroom residence, created by renowned architect Richard Müller, will be an exquisite masterpiece in Senderos, one of the most exclusive luxury neighborhoods in Tamarindo. Its immaculate interior spaces transition seamlessly to outdoor areas, with an infinity pool as the centerpiece of the upstairs and numerous balconies on the lower level. Perched on a hillside, the home's design pulls it away from the landscape, providing unlimited views in all directions. The design represents the perfection of modern luxury construction in Costa Rica. No expense will be spared in building this residence, featuring a total of 5,700 square feet of indoor and outdoor living space. This is an opportunity to live a truly extraordinary lifestyle, combining the exquisite luxury of living above the Costa Rican canopy with close access to one of the country's most vibrant tourism hubs, Playa Tamarindo.
