Property Description

Sea Ridge Reserve is a private, natural, 945-hectare, retreat in the coastal mountain range of Costa Rica's Southern Zone, overlooking Uvita and Playa Ballena. The vast majority of its hundreds of hectares have never been disturbed by human activity and remain home to all manner of wildlife. The existing improvements were installed by a previous owner to establish a personal retreat and nature reserve, and to offer facilities for a limited number of guests, staff, and necessary equipment. More than 25 fincas, united under single ownership, are located in 3 clusters stretching from the base of the Diamante Falls to the leading edge of the coastal mountains. Additional parcels, which could increase the land area to 1000 hectares, may be returned to Sea Ridge Reserve control in coming years. Details available during due diligence. The included residence at Sea Ridge Reserve is majestically perched along the ocean view edge of the coastal mountain range.
